Dear Almost Centenarian,

This past octogenarian responds in haste so he can continue his work while he still can.

Livingstone is crazy. Posner is-like the fox he is. More skunk. For now the little I enclose will have to do. And they both stole from me what they did not want me to have instead of making the copies they could and did woth other records. They both knew the truth, know about the records, etc. Each wanted his own kind of fame and Posner's had other purposes for which he was well rewarded.

They both knew better.

They also knew those records I used are not forgeries.

Best wishes for many more years,

Harold Weisberg
